

Sample Payload: Live Game Scorecard Examples

The purpose of this page is to provide examples of data captured for Cricket in the live game scorecard event. See Cricket live game webhooks - Sample payloads for a complete list of Cricket e-scoring events.

 Please note that the example payloads below and on other pages in this directory are not sequential. They are to be used as isolated examples, only.

Line-up change examples

The following examples show the live game scorecard payload presents for a number of different line-up related events. This list is not exhaustive but covers the most common events.

▼ Strike batter is switched

Strike batter is switched. This can occur when the strike batter is deliberately switched in electronic scoring, or when the strike batter changes naturally based on the number of runs made, or when a wicket occurs.
